

TEACHER MAY WED, BUT MUSTN'T HAVE BABY, SAYS BOARD

Mrs. Peixotto Dismissed by Vote of 27 to 5 for Absence to Bear Child.

CASE TO GO TO COURT.

Two Women Members Vote for Dismissal and Two Against.

"You are penalizing motherhood," declared Dr. Ira S. Wile of his colleagues on the Board of Education in the discussion of the case of Mrs. Bridget C. Peixotto, a teacher suspended April 22, after having been absent since Feb. 1 and given birth to a child April 7.

"Do not, I beg of you, Dr. Wile, go on," "make a law allowing teachers to marry, but not to bear children," Mrs. Peixotto was dismissed by a vote of 27 to 5 at last night's session of the board.

The case of Mrs. Peixotto had been carried over for the past two meetings of the board, so when a motion was made to again defer action, the motion was not even seconded. All attention was centered on Dr. Ira S. Wile, when he fired the opening gun in Mrs. Peixotto's defense.

"We are about to discuss the case which has caused the finger of scorn throughout the whole country to be pointed at our State for the attitude it has taken regarding married women teachers bearing children," he said. "Here we have a woman who has been a splendid teacher for eighteen years, who in two more years would be entitled to a pension, suspended because she remained away to give birth to a child. What if her communication to the proper authorities was that she suffered from an affection of the ears and eyes? It is true, she did have those affections."

MOTHER APT TO BE BEST TEACHER, HE SAYS.

"Mrs. Peixotto has been accused of neglect of duty in remaining away during the months of pregnancy, but think of the numerous and protracted absences of neurasthenic women or chronic invalids which a girl is urged similarly as the basis of dismissal. Last year we allowed one woman a year off to take an invalid father abroad. Another woman had a five months' leave of absence to go West and nurse a sick mother."

"The fact that a teacher is a mother, with her sympathy extended, is far more apt to make her better able to understand her pupils. One of the largest and most select private schools in this city employs only married teachers, and gives them leave of absence as may be required. Do you want this case carried to the courts, as it surely will be, and be humiliated by their decision? You are penalizing motherhood. If you do not want to have married teachers, all right, but do not, I beg of you, make a law allowing them to marry, but not to bear children."

TWO WOMEN MEMBERS FOR DISMISSAL, TWO AGAINST.

Abraham Stern, who submitted the resolution declaring Mrs. Peixotto discharged, answered some of Dr. Wile's arguments. Mr. Stern said:

"Dr. Wile spoke of allowing persons with neurasthenia and other diseases to have time off, but this is an entirely different proposition. To my mind the case is no different from that of a person who would not sail on a steamer, knowing that the steamer would not return in time for the school session."

The question at issue is: Does the teacher do as efficient work and does the child get all the attention that is due it? The board is not against motherhood. Our decision will not precipitate any serious decrease in the population, and even if it does we must look after the children already in the school room."

LAUREL ENTRIES.

RACE TRACK, LAUREL, Md., Oct. 9.
—The entries for to-morrow's races are as follows:

FIRST RACE—Two-year-olds; handicap; six furlongs—Addie M., 108 (Halt); 97, Water Lady, 105; Pomona Belle, 105; Star and Cap, 100; Fanny Gold, 116; Car Michael, 108.

SECOND RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; one mile—Nancy, 107; Cliff Stream, 101; The Trump, 107; Anselm, 106; November, 104; Gumbo, 96; Neptune, 110; Spring Maid, 101; Chester Krum, 110; Vanted Hager, 101; Royal Success, 102; Adalmeade, 102; Flammarion, 101; John Henson, 112.

THIRD RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; handicap; five and a half furlongs—Helen, 103; Smilgway, 100; House Maid, 117; Gemma, 103; Ruby, 119; Yankee Notions, 111; Sir John Power, 110; Helmore, 118.

FOURTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; steeplechase; one mile and seventy yards—Bobby, 107; Melie R., 111; Spectacular, 110; Fred Mulholland, 110; Virginia Green, 109; Yellow Eye, 113; Fairy Godmother, 94.

FIFTH RACE—Two-year-olds; conditions; five and a half furlongs—Valkyrie, 112; Captain Ben, 100; Gumbel, 122; Lorie Mae, 100; Ash Can, 100; Hummell, 110; Frontier, 102.

SIXTH RACE—Three-year-olds and upward; steeplechase; six furlongs—Joe Knight, 118; "Black Head, 115; Deduction, 111; Hans Green, 100.

*Apprentice allowance claimed.

2,000 CAVALRYMEN PASS BEFORE WILSON IN WASHINGTON PARADE

Strongest Mounted Force in Capital Since War Shows
Great Advance in Tactics.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Trotting down from the Virginia hills overlooking Washington, 2,000 khaki-clad cavalrymen invaded Washington to-day and passed in review before President Wilson and the military attaches of the foreign embassies and legations. The review was planned to illustrate the great advance made in cavalry tactics. The men, fresh from their camp in Fort Myer, constituted the strongest regular mounted force of the army that has passed before a President since the close of the civil war.

The center of the maneuvers, which followed the march in review, was a stand in Potomac Park, especially constructed for the President. Invited to share it with the Chief Executive were Secretary Garrison and other members of the cabinet; Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army; the heads of the various bureaus of the War Department, and the members of the Senate and House Military Affairs committees. Great crowds thronged points of vantage to view the maneuvers.

The brigade, which will be disbanded to-morrow and sent to the different posts from which it was assembled, consisted of the Tenth, from Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont; the Eleventh, from Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia; and two squadrons of the Fifteenth, one of them from Fort Sheridan, Illinois, and the other from Fort Myer, Virginia.

Everything about the maneuvers emphasized the contrast of to-day's organizations and maneuvers with those of the far away days when the marching hosts passed through the national capital at the close of the civil war. The brigade was commanded by Col. C. H. Murray.

With the review over, the maneuvers immediately followed. The tests were made in troop, squadron, regimental and brigade formation. One feature of the new cavalry system was the drills without bugle calls or shouted commands. Save for the clatter of the horses' feet, absolute silence prevailed.

With the minor formation maneuvers executed, came the climax in the brigade charges, at the conclusion of which the troops rode across the hills to their camp at Fort Myer.

FORD'S ESTATE ONLY $12,000

Editor's Widow and Eleven Children to Share It.

The estate of Patrick Ford, editor and founder of the Irish World, will not exceed $12,000, according to the estimate set forth in the petition for letters of administration filed to-day with Surrogate Ketcham of the Surrogate Court of Brooklyn, by Robert E. Ford, eldest son of the deceased editor. The real estate is valued at $3,000 and personal property at $4,000. The petition, which was drawn without the aid of a lawyer, is in the usual form and signed by all of the eleven children except three daughters. It is understood they are not hostile to the appointment of Robert E. Ford as administrator.

Patrick Ford died on Sept. 13 at his home at No. 350 West 44th street, Brooklyn. He is survived by his widow and eleven children, Robert E., Austin J., Andrew J., James B., Thomas J., and Miss Ellen Ford, all of whom are unmarried and live at the old home—street: Paul Ford, No. 181 Lorimer street; Patrick J. Ford of No. 61 DeKalb avenue; Mrs. Mary Ford of No. 37 Rackett street; Frank Ford of No. 161 Lapeer street; and Mrs. Odie O'Brien of No. 37 Armstrong avenue, Jersey City.

UNCLE SAM HOLDS UP GRANDEE WITH MONEY AND FAIR COMPANION

Both Removed to Ellis Island
From Fine Suite on the Imperator.

Pinio da Silva Prado, with all the airs and graces of a Spanish grandee and all the money of the Count of Monte Cristo and the Prince of Monaco, was a passenger on the Imperator, when he arrived to-day from Hamburg and Plymouth. The Spanish grandee did not arrive. He was taken to Ellis Island. But he said he should worry, meaning that he should not. Poor! He has so much money.

In the magnificent suite of Pinio da Silva Prado there dwelt on the voyage over a beautiful young French woman. Her name is Yvonne Groulard. It was for her that the Spanish grandee went into exile on Ellis Island, and she shared his exile. The immigration officers were puzzled at her appearance, and they asked Pinio da Silva Prado if she were his wife.

"No, no," he responded, raising his eyes, and mademoiselle said "No, no," also and shrugged her beautiful shoulders. The Spanish grandee said that they had been living together for six years and that he was very fond of her. But his wife? Ah, she lived in Paris! After that, Ellis Island for the woman and the man with so much money.

WHY SHOULD HE WORRY, WITH LOTS OF MONEY?

Prado was on deck with his companion when seen by the ship newspaper. He is a man of medium size, well educated, good looking, easy and affable in manner. When asked what he thought of his predicament he said:

"I should worry! I have lots of money."

WORKED THEM ALL IN.
—From the "Anti-Trust" Mail.

A Swansea school teacher asked a pupil to compose a short essay in which he was to say something about all the days of the week. This was his attempt: "On Monday I tied a tin can to our cat's tail, and the trouble over it lasted over Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. So on Sunday I resolved not to do it again."

QUEEN QUALITY BOOT SHOP
32 West 34th Street
Midway between the Waldorf and the McAlpin

Value in shoes is made up of many elements.

The most important are fit, style, leather and workmanship.

We offer you the best combination of these that the shoe world turns out—Queen Quality shoes.

And, further, we offer a hundred or more models for you to choose from.

$3.50 to $5.00
A few at $6.00 and up

Silver for Every Day Use

THE thing that is in common every day use needs special care in its selection.

That is why we have bestowed such pains on the designing of those articles of Silver or Silver Plate which are constantly before your eyes.

For instance, we have more than twenty differing designs in Hot Milk Pitchers—each simple, clean, good looking and useful.

The MERIDEN Co.
(INTERNATIONAL SILVER COMPANY, SUCCESSOR)
Silversmiths
49-51 W. 34th Street, Through to 68-70 W. 35th Street, New York

BULLDOG IS BLINDED BUT CAT IT FOUGHT IS STILL IN THE RING

Court Must Settle Whether
Blinding Was Done by Cat
or Druggist's Ammonia.

The residents in the neighborhood of Gates avenue and Quincy street, Brooklyn, would like to know who blinded Samuel Fuller's bulldog. Was it Druggist Frank J. Haynes of No. 33 Quincy street, or was it the cat?

Haynes was up before Magistrate Reynolds in the Gates Avenue Court to-day charged, on Fuller's complaint, with cruelty to animals. According to Fuller,

Haynes threw ammonia in his bulldog's eyes when said bulldog was engaged in a life and death struggle with Haynes's cat.

The incident took place Sept. 17. Fuller's dog, tagging at a leash held by a small boy, attacked Haynes's sleek and inoffensive cat in front of the drug store. Neighbors rushed up from all sides and tried various means of separating the animals. Crossing his teeth in the cat's shoulder and shutting his eyes against puppy's murderous claws, the dog held on with the grit of his race while belabored with whips and cudgels and liberally sprinkled with water.

Then Haynes, according to his story, came out with the ammonia. He was careful, he told the Court, to sprinkle the stuff around the struggling animals and not on them. It was his theory that the fumes would make the dog choke for breath and release his hold. That's what happened, but when Fuller, who is a dog fancier, got his dog back to his shop at No. 31 Gates avenue the animal's eyes were so badly hurt as to make him stone blind in a few days. The cat is limping but still in the ring. Half the neighbors think the cat scooped out the dog's eyes. The others are inclined to think the ammonia did the trick. Fuller was not in court to-day, so the Magistrate set the case over until Oct. 17 for settlement.

HAIR'S DILEMMA.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

BULLDOG IS BLINDED BUT CAT IT FOUGHT IS STILL IN THE RING

Court Must Settle Whether
Blinding Was Done by Cat
or Druggist's Ammonia.

The residents in the neighborhood of Gates avenue and Quincy street, Brooklyn, would like to know who blinded Samuel Fuller's bulldog. Was it Druggist Frank J. Haynes of No. 33 Quincy street, or was it the cat?

Haynes was up before Magistrate Reynolds in the Gates Avenue Court to-day charged, on Fuller's complaint, with cruelty to animals. According to Fuller,

Haynes threw ammonia in his bulldog's eyes when said bulldog was engaged in a life and death struggle with Haynes's cat.

The incident took place Sept. 17. Fuller's dog, tagging at a leash held by a small boy, attacked Haynes's sleek and inoffensive cat in front of the drug store. Neighbors rushed up from all sides and tried various means of separating the animals. Crossing his teeth in the cat's shoulder and shutting his eyes against puppy's murderous claws, the dog held on with the grit of his race while belabored with whips and cudgels and liberally sprinkled with water.

Then Haynes, according to his story, came out with the ammonia. He was careful, he told the Court, to sprinkle the stuff around the struggling animals and not on them. It was his theory that the fumes would make the dog choke for breath and release his hold. That's what happened, but when Fuller, who is a dog fancier, got his dog back to his shop at No. 31 Gates avenue the animal's eyes were so badly hurt as to make him stone blind in a few days. The cat is limping but still in the ring. Half the neighbors think the cat scooped out the dog's eyes. The others are inclined to think the ammonia did the trick. Fuller was not in court to-day, so the Magistrate set the case over until Oct. 17 for settlement.

HAIR'S DILEMMA.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

BULLDOG IS BLINDED BUT CAT IT FOUGHT IS STILL IN THE RING

Court Must Settle Whether
Blinding Was Done by Cat
or Druggist's Ammonia.

The residents in the neighborhood of Gates avenue and Quincy street, Brooklyn, would like to know who blinded Samuel Fuller's bulldog. Was it Druggist Frank J. Haynes of No. 33 Quincy street, or was it the cat?

Haynes was up before Magistrate Reynolds in the Gates Avenue Court to-day charged, on Fuller's complaint, with cruelty to animals. According to Fuller,

Haynes threw ammonia in his bulldog's eyes when said bulldog was engaged in a life and death struggle with Haynes's cat.

The incident took place Sept. 17. Fuller's dog, tagging at a leash held by a small boy, attacked Haynes's sleek and inoffensive cat in front of the drug store. Neighbors rushed up from all sides and tried various means of separating the animals. Crossing his teeth in the cat's shoulder and shutting his eyes against puppy's murderous claws, the dog held on with the grit of his race while belabored with whips and cudgels and liberally sprinkled with water.

Then Haynes, according to his story, came out with the ammonia. He was careful, he told the Court, to sprinkle the stuff around the struggling animals and not on them. It was his theory that the fumes would make the dog choke for breath and release his hold. That's what happened, but when Fuller, who is a dog fancier, got his dog back to his shop at No. 31 Gates avenue the animal's eyes were so badly hurt as to make him stone blind in a few days. The cat is limping but still in the ring. Half the neighbors think the cat scooped out the dog's eyes. The others are inclined to think the ammonia did the trick. Fuller was not in court to-day, so the Magistrate set the case over until Oct. 17 for settlement.

HAIR'S DILEMMA.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

BULLDOG IS BLINDED BUT CAT IT FOUGHT IS STILL IN THE RING

Court Must Settle Whether
Blinding Was Done by Cat
or Druggist's Ammonia.

The residents in the neighborhood of Gates avenue and Quincy street, Brooklyn, would like to know who blinded Samuel Fuller's bulldog. Was it Druggist Frank J. Haynes of No. 33 Quincy street, or was it the cat?

Haynes was up before Magistrate Reynolds in the Gates Avenue Court to-day charged, on Fuller's complaint, with cruelty to animals. According to Fuller,

Haynes threw ammonia in his bulldog's eyes when said bulldog was engaged in a life and death struggle with Haynes's cat.

The incident took place Sept. 17. Fuller's dog, tagging at a leash held by a small boy, attacked Haynes's sleek and inoffensive cat in front of the drug store. Neighbors rushed up from all sides and tried various means of separating the animals. Crossing his teeth in the cat's shoulder and shutting his eyes against puppy's murderous claws, the dog held on with the grit of his race while belabored with whips and cudgels and liberally sprinkled with water.

Then Haynes, according to his story, came out with the ammonia. He was careful, he told the Court, to sprinkle the stuff around the struggling animals and not on them. It was his theory that the fumes would make the dog choke for breath and release his hold. That's what happened, but when Fuller, who is a dog fancier, got his dog back to his shop at No. 31 Gates avenue the animal's eyes were so badly hurt as to make him stone blind in a few days. The cat is limping but still in the ring. Half the neighbors think the cat scooped out the dog's eyes. The others are inclined to think the ammonia did the trick. Fuller was not in court to-day, so the Magistrate set the case over until Oct. 17 for settlement.

HAIR'S DILEMMA.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

BULLDOG IS BLINDED BUT CAT IT FOUGHT IS STILL IN THE RING

Court Must Settle Whether
Blinding Was Done by Cat
or Druggist's Ammonia.

The residents in the neighborhood of Gates avenue and Quincy street, Brooklyn, would like to know who blinded Samuel Fuller's bulldog. Was it Druggist Frank J. Haynes of No. 33 Quincy street, or was it the cat?

Haynes was up before Magistrate Reynolds in the Gates Avenue Court to-day charged, on Fuller's complaint, with cruelty to animals. According to Fuller,

Haynes threw ammonia in his bulldog's eyes when said bulldog was engaged in a life and death struggle with Haynes's cat.

The incident took place Sept. 17. Fuller's dog, tagging at a leash held by a small boy, attacked Haynes's sleek and inoffensive cat in front of the drug store. Neighbors rushed up from all sides and tried various means of separating the animals. Crossing his teeth in the cat's shoulder and shutting his eyes against puppy's murderous claws, the dog held on with the grit of his race while belabored with whips and cudgels and liberally sprinkled with water.

Then Haynes, according to his story, came out with the ammonia. He was careful, he told the Court, to sprinkle the stuff around the struggling animals and not on them. It was his theory that the fumes would make the dog choke for breath and release his hold. That's what happened, but when Fuller, who is a dog fancier, got his dog back to his shop at No. 31 Gates avenue the animal's eyes were so badly hurt as to make him stone blind in a few days. The cat is limping but still in the ring. Half the neighbors think the cat scooped out the dog's eyes. The others are inclined to think the ammonia did the trick. Fuller was not in court to-day, so the Magistrate set the case over until Oct. 17 for settlement.

HAIR'S DILEMMA.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

MADE IN THE U.S.A.
—From the Boston Telegram.

"Maud is in a pretty bad fix," "What is the trouble?" "You says if she marries I'm hell reform, and Jack says if she don't she'll go to the dogs."

This Week at All the 235 James Butler Inc. Stores and Markets

JAMES BUTLER
CHOICE INC. GROCERIES

Eggs EAST VIEW, New Laid; sold only in sealed cartons; dozen 43¢
Every East View Egg Guaranteed Strictly Fresh

Eggs Empire Brand, carefully selected for table use; in cartons; dozen 35¢

JAMES BUTLER
CHOICE INC. GROCERIES

Selected Eggs by the dozen 29¢

Great Fall Flour Sale

The Four Best Brands—Every Bag and Barrel Fresh from the Mills—at Sensational Prices, the Lowest of the Year:

Pride of St. Louis	Gold Medal	Pillsbury's	Hecker's
By the Barrel... $5.15	By the Barrel... $5.50	By the Barrel... $5.50	By the Barrel... $5.75
24½-lb. Bag (½-Barrel)... 65¢	24½-lb. Bag (½-Barrel)... 69¢	24½-lb. Bag (½-Barrel)... 69¢	24½-lb. Bag (½-Barrel)... 73¢

Mail orders addressed to James Butler Inc. 390 Washington St., New York City, with cash, money-order or N. Y. exchange promptly filled at above prices, purchaser paying freight.

Blue Ribbon Baking Powder

25 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with 1-lb. can 35¢
10 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with ½-lb. can 18¢
5 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with ¼-lb. can 10¢

Triumph Baking Powder

25 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with 1-lb. can 20¢
10 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with ½-lb. can 10¢
5 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with ¼-lb. can 5¢

At all 35 James Butler Inc. Markets

Extra Specials for Thursday

Sirloin Steak, your choice of cuts,lb. 20¢
Spare Ribs, meaty and appetizing,lb. 11¢
Shoulder of Canada Lamblb. 8¢

Extra Specials for Friday

Double ~~24~~ Stamps with all purchases on Friday
Rib Mutton Chops, very choice, .2 lbs. 25¢
Fresh Chopped Beef, Extra fine, .lb. 16¢
Sugar Cured Shoulderslb. 11½¢

Delicious little "picnics," lean and tender, like hams.

Extra Specials for Saturday

Prime Rib Roast, Any cut,lb. 20¢
Sirloin Steak, Your choice of cuts,lb. 20¢
Sausages, Genuine Pork, fresh made,lb. 18¢
Sugar Cured Hams, Choice selected, lb. 18¢
Smoked Tongues, Nothing finer,lb. 18¢
Fancy Stewing Fowl, Selected,lb. 18¢
Swift's Premium Broilerslb. 25¢

At all 131 James Butler Inc. Licensed Stores

The Big Dollar's Worth

Bottle Old Monogram Whiskey 75¢
Bottle Old California Sherry 25¢
Bottle Old California Port 25¢

Sir John Power's Irish Whiskey $1.10
Celebrated Three Swallow Dublin Pot Still, J. B. bottle.

Superior Gin, Holland or Old Tom, bottle. 75¢

Rock and Rye, for coughs and colds, bottle 50¢

Ruppert's Knickerbocker Beer
Celebrated for its Extra Quality. $1.25
50 ~~24~~ Stamps with case of 24 bottles.

Guinness's Stout and Bass Ale
World's Two Best 2 bots. 25¢; 3 Splits 25¢
Imported Brews... 2 bots. 25¢; 3 Splits 25¢
Allowance of 15¢. for doz. empty bottles and 10¢. for doz. empty splits.

Choicest Teas and Coffees

Unexcelled for Purity, Flavor and Rare "Cup Quality"

100 ~~24~~ Stamps FREE with 100 1 lb. Very Best Teas 60¢
Choice of Formosa, Oolong, India, Ceylon, English Breakfast and Mixed.

5 ~~24~~ Stamps with 1 lb. Golden Santos Coffee 20¢
30 ~~24~~ Stamps with 1 lb. Very Best Coffee .35¢
All Bulk Coffees Sold in the Bean or Ground to Suit.

Norway Mackerel, 5¢
First of the season's North Sea catch, each

Rolled Oats, 3 lbs. 12¢
Fresh from the mill; choice quality

Triumph Rice, 25¢ cloth 10¢
Best Carolina; 3-lb. cloth bag

Potatoes, Maine's 6 lbs. 12¢
Finest.

Sweet Potatoes, 5 lbs. 12¢

Cranberries, Best of the new crop, lb. 9¢

Housekeepers' Special—New Canned Goods

Early June Peas, 3 cans 25¢
Sweet Sugar Corn, 3 for 25¢
Tomatoes, large No. 3 can Assorted to Suit.

Aunt Nanna's Pancake Flour pkg. 10¢

Blue Ribbon Syrup, large can. 10¢

Buckwheat Flour, Peerless prepared, pkg. 15¢

Peerless Molasses, large can. 10¢

Blue Ribbon Currants, cleaned, pkg. 12¢

Seeded Raisins, fresh new fruit, package 10¢

Dates, Columbus brand, selected new fruit, pkg. 5¢